

"Romantic Dinner at Home" is the Top 2016 Valentine's Day Wish for Most Americans

Omaha Steaks® announced today that nearly 90 percent of the respondents to their recent nationwide Valentine's Day survey of the general U.S. population, indicated that they would enjoy their Valentine surprising them this year with a romantic dinner for two at home.

When asked about the advantages of celebrating Valentine's Day at home respondents indicated that they prefer to avoid crowds (69 percent), they prefer a quiet atmosphere (67 percent), and a less expensive meal (65 percent). When it comes to what's on the menu, steak/roast, lobster/shrimp, and surf & turf were the most popular entrees accounting for more than 57 percent of responses.

In response to consumer demand, Omaha Steaks is offering The Romantic Dinner In (#46161) for only $84.99, regularly $199.96. The package features:

- 1 (10 oz.) Chateaubriand
- 4 Maine Lobster Tail Halves (10oz. pkg.)
- 4 (5 oz. pkgs.) Smashed Red Potatoes
- 4 Sea Salt Caramel Brownies

"The trend the past few years has been that people really want to celebrate Valentine's Day at home with their significant other," said Todd Simon, Senior Vice President and family owner of Omaha Steaks. "With The Romantic Dinner In, we give you everything you need to avoid the crowds and share a quiet romantic dinner at home with your Valentine."
